

DON HEYLIGER YOUNG PROFESSIONAL AWARD

Don E. Heyliger
1939-1988

BACKGROUND:

Donald “Don” Heyliger, Parks and Recreation Director for the City of Dover at the time of his death, was respected and appreciated by many young professionals who, during their student years, worked as interns and part-time employees in the Dover recreation system. A number of his protégés went on to full-time recreation professional positions in the cities and towns of New Hampshire.

Don was born in Springfield, Massachusetts, graduated from Springfield College in 1961, taught and coached in Massachusetts public schools, and earned a Masters Degree at the University of Massachusetts in 1969. He then came to New Hampshire where he became assistant professor of physical education at the University of New Hampshire and coached men’s varsity soccer. Don became Director of Parks and Recreation in Dover in 1976.

Don Heyliger served as President of the New Hampshire Recreation Society during 1985-86. He was greatly respected by his colleagues statewide, and was close to other recreation professionals in the seacoast area. He was also active in and served on the boards of directors of other civic and professional associations.

Lynn White, Don’s widow, said that Don loved people of all ages and enjoyed seeing them happy and active.
